

2019 Harvest Report

RAINFALL

24-27"

*with several inches
in late spring*

WEATHER TRENDS

Relatively cool spring and summer. A few hot days in late summer on September 11-14 (90-98° F) and September 23-25 (98-100° F).

BUDBREAK

Mar 15

OVERALL NOTES

An exceptional, cool vintage with near ideal weather during the dormant winter months as well as the growing season. Bud-break was later than average in the region. The vines received an above average amount of rainfall in winter. Overall, the growing season was cool without heat spikes. This was a smaller than average vintage overall that yielded balanced wines, with laser focused white wines and restrained, elegant red wines.
